

MAG MUTUAL[®]
MAG MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY

HOW LONG SHOULD I RETAIN MY PATIENTS' MEDICAL RECORDS IN TENNESSEE?

For Tennessee, the patient medical record must be kept for ten years from the last professional contact with the patient. The medical record for minors must be kept for one year after they reach the age of majority or ten years after the last patient contact, whichever is longer.

Hospitals must keep and preserve records that relate directly to the care and treatment of a patient for the same time period following the date of discharge. Some records must be kept indefinitely, such as records for an incompetent person, and immunization records for all patients.

X-rays, radiographs, and other imaging products may be destroyed after four years, but only if there is a separate report interpreting the images. Mammography records must be kept for twenty years.

Patient records that are the subject of a dispute must be kept until the dispute is resolved, or the above rules have been met, whichever is longer.

The risk management advice presented in this Site is intended as general information of interest to physicians and other healthcare professionals. The recommendations and advice published on this Site do not reflect or establish a standard of care and do not establish rules for the practice of medicine. The publication of this information is not intended as an offer to insure such conditions or exposures, or to indicate that MAG Mutual Insurance Company will underwrite such risks for the reader. Our liability is limited to the specific written terms and conditions of actual insurance policies issued.
